A TEAM from Cherrybrook Technology High School will this weekend go head-to-head with the best student woodworkers in NSW.

The team – Dominik Giles, Daniel Romeo, Daniel Remaili and James Denyar – won their way through to the state wood show challenge final with victory over

“ It means a lot to our students to have won through to the state final.

Pennant Hills High and Carlingford High school teams.

The competition sees each team given two hours to produce four examples of a simple design using basic woodworking skills.

A spokesman for Cherrybrook Technology High School said the competition gave students the opportunity to enhance their technical abilities.

“It definitely means a lot to our students to have won through to the state final and this was displayed from the smiles on their faces,” he said.

The state final will be held at Sydney Olympic Park.
